Dear Kathy,

I hope this email finds you well! As we gear up for midterms, we wanted to remind students that they have a supportive community here at UNO, and part of that community includes remarkable individuals like you. Recently, during an outreach effort led by Bruno, our AI chatbot, we encouraged students to think about those who have significantly influenced their experiences on campus. Your name came up as someone who has made a meaningful impact.

While no specific quotes were shared, it's evident that your dedication and support resonate deeply with your students. Your commitment to fostering a nurturing learning environment truly enriches their educational journey.

On behalf of the students who acknowledged you, I want to express our sincere gratitude for your unwavering commitment to excellence and the positive role you play within the UNO community. Your efforts do not go unnoticed, and we are incredibly thankful for all that you do.

Thank you once again for your passion and dedication! Your work is genuinely appreciated by everyone you inspire.

Warm regards,

LeeAnne Sipe, M.A.
